

The Bible: Culture, Community and Society

July 11th - 13th 2011

University of Winchester

Centre for the Study of Theology and Religion

In what ways is the Bible an authority?

How is the Bible to be read in 'public'?

How does the Bible shape Christian living?

An international conference to explore these questions with the following keynote speakers:

Richard Bell

Zoë Bennett

Andrew Bradstock

Ellen Davis

Gavin D'Costa

David Fergusson

Neil Messer

Angus Paddison

Ben Quash

Open to all: residential and non-residential rates available.

Proposals for short papers from scholars and research students are welcome.

For programme, booking forms and call for papers please visit www.winchester.ac.uk/bibleconference or email Angus.Paddison@winchester.ac.uk

In association with

